The Kaimiloa should have been sold at auction to day, but the sale has been postponed until the 14th.

The Australia is due to-day from San Francisco, and it is to be hoped that her decks will be crowded with tourists.

EITHER a feast or a famine is the rule in Honolulu. Just now we are having numerous social events. Well, the more the merrier.

A rumor is around that there is a difference of opinion among the members of the Anti-Asiatic Union. Unity is strength gentlemen.

This afternoon the annual meeting of one of the divisions of the Liliuokalani Educational Society will be held. We are under the impression that this society has been in existence two years or more, and as yet we have never seen published a statement of its receipts and expenditures. As the public subscribe to its funds it is due to them that an annual financial statement be made. This is what other charitable societies do.

A MISSTATEMENT.

The "Gazette" on Saturday morning stated in an editorial note that the defendant in the conspiracy case was a considerable owner of stock in the PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER. We beg to state that the "Gazette" is in error. Mr. Macfarlane having transferred his stock several months ago. As to the article which appeared in Friday's issue of this paper on the Attorney General, it gave general approval on all sides. It is a pity the Government wind bag cannot get nearer the truth.

A Portuguese Woman Drowned.

The steamer Waialeale, which arrived Sunday from Kauai, brought news of a Portuguese woman having been washed off the rocks at Kilauea last Tuesday morning and drowned. The woman was fishing at the time and was accompanied by one of her children, a six-year old boy. The boy having become tired waiting for his mother, returned to the plantation and said nothing until an older brother asked him where his mother was. The child then said she was in the water. Parties went down to the place to look for the woman, but could not find her. The next day a boat cruised about looking for the body, but without finding it. Up to the time of the leaving of the Waialeale the remains had not been recovered. The woman leaves a husband and six children.—[Bulletin.]

NUPTIALS.

Mr. J. M. Dowsett and Miss W. Widemann United in Marriage.

The Ceremony Takes Place at St. Andrew's Cathedral Before a Large Assemblage—Full Particulars of the Affair.

At St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, Mr. John McKibbin Dowsett, employed in the banking house of Bishop & Co., was united in marriage to Miss Wilhelmina Widemann, daughter of our respected townsman Hon. H. A. Widemann. The cathedral doors were thrown open at 11 o'clock and a quarter of an hour later every seat which was not reserved for the relatives and friends of the two families was occupied.

The chancel of the Cathedral was most profusely decorated with choice flowers, palms and evergreens. Between the pillars were pretty hanging baskets, while the pillars themselves were festooned with different colored vines. On either side of the chancel were handsome pots of ferns and small palms. The desks of the two front seats occupied by the relatives of the contracting parties were almost buried in choice and fragrant flowers.

At 11:30 o'clock the bridegroom, attended by his best man, Mr. H. M. Whitney, Jr., and Messrs. C. J. Deering and Carl Widemann, took up positions near the altar. A few minutes later the bride, leaning on her father's arm and attended by Miss Bernice Parke, maid of honor, and Misses Dora Dowsett and Alvina Widemann, entered the Cathedral and passed up the center aisle to the music of the Wedding March from Lohengrin. The bride was dressed in a handsome costume of white crepe trimmed with lilacs. She also wore a veil and diamond ornaments. The bridesmaids wore dresses of white flannel trimmed with military braid. The bride carried a bouquet of white stephanotis, and the bridesmaids each a parasol trimmed with the same flower.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh according to the ritual of the Episcopal Church. After it was over the bridal party retired to the vestry to sign the register. They left the Cathedral to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Hotel street, the newly married couple held a reception from noon to 3 o'clock. The interior of the house was magnificently decorated for the occasion. One round table in a corner of the parlor where the reception was held was covered with magnolias, while the center lamp chandelier was festooned with stephanotis. The wedding presents were numerous and of the most exquisite kind. Their Majesties the King and Queen; H. R. H. Princess Liliuokalani, H. R. H. Princess Kaiulani, His Excellency Governor Dominis, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn and a large number of our leading residents attended the reception. The Royal Hawaiian band was stationed on the lawn and played appropriate selections during the reception.

Late in the afternoon the happy couple left for their future residence at Makiki. Next week they leave for a trip on Hawaii. We join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dowsett much prosperity and happiness in their journey through life.

HONOLULU SOCIAL CLUB.

First Monthly Meeting at the New McInerney Hall.

Last evening the Honolulu Social Club, a recently formed organization, gave its first monthly party in the hall in the McInerney block. The staircase leading from Fort street to the hall was very tastefully decorated with evergreens. At the head of the stairs is a cloak room fitted up with every convenience. The hall itself is well adapted for social gatherings, and will accommodate quite a large number of people. At one end was a raised platform which was used by the members of Palmer's orchestra who played for dancing. The words "Welcome, Honolulu Social Club," in green letters on a white ground occupied a foremost position nearly over the platform.

The arrangements were as perfect as they could be, and the various committees did all in their power to make the occasion a pleasant one for those present. The committees were distinguished as follows: Red ribbon, Arrangements; blue ribbon, Floor; white ribbon, Reception. The programme of dances was an exceedingly neat one and contained fourteen dances. The floor of the hall is a fine one for dancing. During the evening some excellent refreshments were served, and taken altogether the affair was a brilliant success. The Honolulu Social Club is to be highly congratulated upon its first party.

Eighty-six boxes of white Star shirts extra good, worth $2 25 each, we will sell during our sale at $1 25 each; sizes 16½, 17, 17½, at Fishel's.

Interviewing Henry Ward Beecher.

There are probably but few newspaper reporters in this city that have not interviewed Henry Ward Beecher. The Plymouth pastor enjoys great popularity among the reporters, for he is accessible, genial, and, as a rule, talkative. He is always ready to engage in a harmless bit of chaff with the newspaper men, but he will not brook insolence. The last mentioned fact was recently impressed upon the alleged mind of a swaggering youngster who said that he represented a Brooklyn paper. A rumor that Mr. Beecher was dead got started in some unaccountable manner and spread like wildfire. Reporters by the score hurried to Mr. Beecher's house and were there confronted by the famous preacher hale and hearty. After a while along came a young man who said to Mr. Beecher with an impudent grin that he had been sent by the city editor of the Brooklyn "to find out whether Beecher was alive or dead."

"Well," said the Plymouth pastor, "I suppose you know who I am?" "Oh, yes," answered the fellow pertly, "but I would like to have it directly from you that you are not dead." "Ah," murmured the stalwart pastor as he laid a heavy hand on the funny young man's coat collar. The next instant the young man was held up in the air and shaken as a dog would shake a sawdust doll. Mr. Beecher set him down on the sidewalk not any too gently and quietly remarked, "Now, you can go to your city editor and tell him that you have received actual proof that I am alive."—New York Times.

The Needed Word of Praise. Many a man ruins the peace of his household forever by neglecting to speak the word of praise which his hungry hearted wife has yearned all day to hear, and bestowing it upon some chance caller or stranger. The man who fails to notice the careful toilet his wife has made for his sake, and compliments the good taste in dress exhibited by some neighbor, sows the seed of jealousy in a disappointed heart.

Woman was made to be loved, petted and appreciated by man. Whatever else she may achieve in life, she feels herself cheated out of her birthright unless this happiness has come to her. She is jealous of whatever and whoever may stand between her and that desired joy. I have known two mothers who were jealous of their own children. Unnatural and terrible as this may seem, I felt the greatest sympathy for both women. In each case the husband utterly ignored the wife and her offspring. She was a secondary consideration, neglected and rebuked where the children were caressed and appreciated.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Concerning Early Marriages. It is, I think, an erroneous idea that early marriages are a hindrance rather than a help to success in life and the mental development and happiness of the parties. That this is sometimes the case is true; but I believe that more young men, and girls too, have been saved from ruin and wretchedness by an early marriage than have been ruined by it. There is something inspiring and ennobling in the possession of a home and a family to work for and beautify, and if the girl and boy are poor, I should still say, marry young and work together for the home and the competence, which will be all the more enjoyable because they are the result of toil and self denial. Don't wait until you can afford to begin just where your father and mother leave off, for then the freshness of youth will be gone, and, although it may be morning with you still, the shades will be stretching on towards the noonday, and habits will have been formed which are hard to break, while the chances are they will never be broken at all.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

The Best Pet of All. The best pet of all is the little child old enough to talk and to understand, with a child's comprehension. The child that is a pet is always promising to be a better pet, because a more appreciative one. Its receptive and retentive mind is greedily gathering ten thousand facts and then ten thousand more, all with each added year the little one not only fills a larger place in your affections, but you are becoming more to the youngster, to be treasured in fond regard through all the years of mature life. Every month, and week, and day is a step toward manhood or womanhood, evincing expanding intelligence and growing affections, and cementing the bonds of friendship and love between the little pet and the elder persons who are nourishing its absorbing mind and are guiding its otherwise uncertain footsteps in the best path of life toward the goal of thought, love and action.—Good Housekeeping.

Hot Fomentations. We all know the value of hot applications, but the mode of making and the applying differ in almost every house. An exchange gives the following: "Wring several thicknesses of flannel out of cold water, so it will not drip; place between two folds of paper, and lay it upon a hot register or top of a stove. Steam will generate and permeate the whole cloth, and thus the required temperature will be obtained. In this way there is no running long distances to a kitchen, no burning of the hands, no uncomfortable moisture in the bed and no ruffled tempers. A hot fomentation is beneficial in almost every acute disease accompanied by severe pain, and is often of great service in chronic inflammations. It is more effectual and more accessible than any other therapeutic agent. By quick, prompt and thorough use severe attacks of illness are often prevented."—Herald of Health.

Let Us Not Fret. Sometimes my wife and I say on Sunday: "Now let us agree that we will not say a single cross word to any one this whole week. Let us be studiously polite to each other and to the children. Let us be very mindful of the feelings of every person with whom we may come into contact. Let us not fret nor complain nor do anything that good, decent, well behaved Christians should not do." And if when the next Sunday comes, we have, through the grace of God, kept this resolve, it goes without saying that we have been happy and the world has perhaps been made a little better for our being in it.—Zenias Dane in Good Housekeeping.

Advice to Young Girls. A word of advice to the young girls: Never contract acquaintance with strange young men unless they come in company with those with whom you are well acquainted, and in whom you place confidence. Even then be on your guard, and see that the proprieties of life are not exceeded.

For bunions get five cents' worth of saltpeter and put it into a bottle with sufficient olive oil to nearly dissolve it; shake up well and rub the inflamed joints night and morning, and more frequently if painful.

When the rubber rollers of your wringer become sticky, as they very often do after wringing flannel, rub with kerosene and wipe dry, and they will be nice and smooth.

For washing flannels use two spoonfuls of borax to three gallons of water; use no soap, and the flannels will be soft and clean and will not shrink.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING

EPPE'S COCOA.

B. EAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—See article in the Civil Service Gazette.

WEDDING CAKE.

Ladies or gentlemen who contemplate giving orders for the above article respectfully requested to call at the Honolulu Pioneer Steam Candy Factory and Bakery, established 1863, before going to any other house, as my establishment is POSITIVELY the only establishment in Honolulu, notwithstanding all the gossamer, empty, and pompous newspaper blowing and puffing, where a cake can be procured to give the greatest satisfaction to the most refined tastes, and to be an ornament of exquisite workmanship on your table which will not crumble in pieces when cut, but be a credit to the fine art of the Confectionery, which has only for twenty-five years, but still bids competition defiance to this day. All attempts in any other establishment are inferior to mine, and not worth the price you pay. It is an indisputable fact that all over the world a good workman's productions are always cheaper than half-made ones are. Having had over half a century's practical experience, the undersigned is enabled to ornament Cakes in the and the highest styles of the art.
